

John Fitzgerald Biography

John Fitzgerald is a Senior Vice President at E3 Federal Solutions (E3), an industry leader in providing exceptional strategic advisory and management consulting services to the federal government across Civilian, Defense and Homeland Security sectors. As E3, Mr. Fitzgerald leads the development of E3 strategic solutions and capabilities to address customer mission needs, including DHS and TSA, where E3 provides advisory support services in risk assessment, data analytics, capability gap analysis and program management. Mr. Fitzgerald brings 20 years of domestic and international experience leading, delivering, and closing strategy, transformation, change management and project management engagements at leading private corporations and numerous agencies within the U.S. Federal Government. Mr. Fitzgerald has a B.A. in Russian, Russian/Soviet Studies from St. Olaf College and an M.A. in International Affairs from The Johns Hopkins University – School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS).